It has been a privilege to be an educator. Teaching is a mission other than profession. In my experience of more than one and a half decades, my chief concern has been to initiate a positive change in the students’ behaviour and mould their attitude by becoming a part of their progress. The main objective of my teaching has been to make the students interested in the subject taught, which itself ensures progress.

My experience of working as a Principal has enabled me to discover a great learning experience where one needs to turn up one’s skill , techniques with individual problem , attitude and behaviour. Teaching students has itself been a great learning experience for me and I have learnt that there is no substitute for hard work and commitment. For me , self-satisfaction is much greater than money or anything that is materialistic.
